

READ THE CITIZEN SAFE, SANE, SURE.

READ THE CITIZEN SAFE, SANE, SURE.

The Citizen.

68th YEAR.--NO. 51 HONESDALE, WAYNE CO., PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1911. PRICE 2 CENTS

DUNMORE TRIMS HONESDALE 4-3

Two Hits and an Error Reverses Score in the Ninth

EACH TEAM HAD A SURPRISE; WHIRLWIND FINISH TO A GOOD GAME.

In a garrison finish Dunmore defeated the Honesdale baseball team on the silk mill grounds here last Saturday afternoon when a combination of two hits, along with Sandercock's fatal error, gave them two runs in the ninth inning, enough to win by a run.

Up to the ninth inning it was a pitchers' battle, Hessling getting, if anything, a little the better of the argument. In that fatal session, however, the Dunmoreites succeeded in reversing the score from 2-3 to 4-3, and clinched the game.

In the dodgers advertising the game, a surprise was promised the locals. The surprise was all right—Chester Ross by name—a cousin of Manager Leon Ross, who played a good game at first, accepting ten chances without an error, and hitting Knox the first time up for two bags. But Dunmore had a surprise in store for Leon Ross' little boys, and his name was Pitcher Knox. Outside of the first inning, when the Maple City boys secured two hits off his delivery, he was as firm as Stonewall Jackson, being especially steady with men on bases.

The game was late in starting, owing to the fact that the 3:15 p. m. D. & H. train was delayed by the heavy Lake Lodore passenger traffic, and the game did not open until twenty minutes after four o'clock.

In the first inning Hawley walked. Dooley was an easy out to Hessling, Hawley advancing. Loftus fanned. On a wild throw to third to catch Hawley, that gentleman scored. T. Duffy was an easy out.

In their half of the first, Honesdale went right out in front after a very wabbling opening session by "Shorty" Knox. Brader drew a walk after Mangan had gone out. Ross made his debut by slamming the ball into left for two bases. Sandercock repeated the trick with a double to deep centre, scoring Brader. Schilling got to first on Knox's fumble. Polt reached first on T. Duffy's fumble, Sandercock scoring. Polt stole second, and went to third on a wild throw. Jacobs drew a pass to first. Polt was an easy out in attempting to score.

In the second inning, only one Dunmoreite, F. Duffy, by name, reached first on a fumble by third baseman Mangan. For Honesdale, Dudley singled to left, stole second, and died there.

It was one, two, three in the third inning, on both sides, and ditto in the fourth.

In the fifth, for Honesdale, with two out, Brader singled to centre, but died there, the next man fanning out. It was one, two, three, in the sixth inning for both sides, and also for Dunmore in the seventh. Hessling got to first on a grounder fumbled by the second baseman. Mangan fled to centre, and the chances for scoring ended.

F. Duffy opened the eighth with a single to left, after Cooligan grounded to second. Moran was out on an easy grounder to short. With two out, Knox and Hawley singled to centre, F. Duffy scoring. Honesdale was blanked in the eighth.

Dies in Station After Both Legs Are Cut Off

FRANK MOONEY, DUNMORE, JOLTED FROM TRAIN AND RECEIVES FATAL INJURIES.

A young man named Frank Mooney, Dunmore, aged 26 years, boarded an east-bound coal train at his home Saturday afternoon en route to Hawley, where he expected to secure employment on the Wilsonville dam. In some unaccountable manner he was jolted from the train at Wangum and both legs were cut off. The left leg was severed at the ankle, while his right limb was cut off near the hip.

Horace Wizard's Home Looted by Thieves

TAKE $200 IN CASH AND JEWELRY LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Sneak thieves entered the home of Horace Wizard last Saturday afternoon and stole in the neighborhood of $100 in money, besides two watches, fobs and other jewelry.

The Wizard home is located on the road from the Erie watering tank to Ferbers knob. The occupants of the house, Mr. Wizard and his two sons, had left the house a few minutes before the robbery occurred, sometime between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock.

Entrance was gained through a rear window by removing a screen. It is evident that parties who entered the house kept their eye upon the premises and were aware when the occupants left the house.

Mr. Wizard places his loss at $200, half of that amount being taken in cold cash and the balance in jewelry.

The arrest of a tourist, Monday afternoon, is thought might furnish some clue to the burglary.

COURT NOTES

"We'll hope for the best," was District Attorney M. E. Simons' comment on the order drawn on his motion, by Judge A. T. Searle in court Tuesday morning, releasing A. F. Shimmel from the Wayne county jail under a suspended sentence, and paroling him in the custody of Principal Harry Oday and Sheriff M. Lee Braman. Shimmel left the court room as unconcerned as he had entered it, leaving the impression on the minds of the spectators that he would probably violate his parole again.

The Seelyville Independent school district, which has been in existence since May 6, 1870, and whose legal life terminates July 1, 1911, under the provisions of the new school code, passed at the last session of the Legislature, was re-created Tuesday morning, when after hearing evidence, in court, for and against the proposition, Judge A. T. Searle ordered the district attorney to draw an order to that effect.

Judge Searle assigned as his reasons for making the decree these facts: "It has been there for forty years. They have had no trouble with Texas township or themselves. This district is a compact village on one side of Texas township. The people in the district are almost unanimous in favor of forming this district. There is no opposition by the people of Texas township or of this district so far as we know. They have maintained a good school there and built a commodious school house."

A. W. Eno, H. A. Dunkelberg, W. Storks, Edw. Welsh and Chauncey Purdy were appointed as school directors by the court.

YOUTH ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Said to Have Stolen Razors from Hawley Firm

HAILS FROM WATERBURY, CONN., AND IS TWENTY-FOUR YEARS OLD.

James O'Connell, who hails from Waterbury, Conn., is in the Honesdale jail charged with stealing razors and knives belonging to Graham Watts & Son, Hawley.

O'Connell was arrested in Pittston on the 16th of this month by the police of that city and placed in the town lockup. The chief of police communicated with Constable Edward Richardson, the latter receiving a card on Monday, the 19th, inquiring whether or not G. Watts & Son, Hawley, had been robbed.

Constable Richardson replied, stating that the above firm had not been burglarized, but would make further investigations as to questions asked. The Erie company, in the meantime, had discovered that its freight train had been robbed between Hawley and Lackawaxen and placed their special detective, James Bender, upon the clue received from Pittston.

The goods and box were inspected and found to be part of an order consigned to Watts & Son, Hawley. Detective Bender brought the prisoner from Pittston to Hawley on Saturday and he was taken before Justice of the Peace W. B. Ammerman for a hearing. O'Connell was charged with selling razors and pocket knives taken from an Erie freight between Lackawaxen and Hawley, the same being the property of Watts & Son. Justice Ammerman held O'Connell for the October term of court.

Detective Bender brought the prisoner to Honesdale Monday. O'Connell was immediately taken to jail where he will remain until Fall. He is a young man probably 24 years of age. His Yankee scheme did not work in Pennsylvania.

Honesdale Visited by Distinguished Guests

PRESIDENT OF THE D. & H. AND OTHER RAILROAD MEN HERE.

Honesdale was visited Saturday morning by several distinguished guests. The party included L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson system, New York city, his daughter, Miss Louise Loree; C. S. Sims, vice-president and general manager, of Albany, N. Y.; C. E. Burr, superintendent of the Pennsylvania division of the road, Carbondale; J. J. Rounds, assistant trainmaster of this division, also of Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart, Westminister, Md. Mr. Stuart is a director of the Delaware & Hudson system.

The party arrived in Honesdale at 6:30 Saturday morning from Wilkes-Barre on a special train, consisting of President Loree's private car No. 500, a regular day coach and engine No. 454. The train was in charge of a Carbondale crew, consisting of John Welch, conductor; Thomas Mooney, trainman; Samuel Banker, engineer, and J. L. Decker, fireman.

The party went on a tour of inspection after they had breakfasted in the large and beautiful steel car of the president, and motored to White Mills in the automobiles of Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh and J. D. Weston, where they spent a few hours at the Dorflinger Cut Glass establishment at that place. The Dorflinger concern furnishes the Delaware & Hudson company with glass supplies. The party also took with them souvenirs in the form of rich and sparkling cut glass.

From White Mills the distinguished guests returned to Honesdale, where they were shown the beauties of the town and then proceeded upon their return trip, continuing in the automobiles to Farview, where they spent some time. After admiring the adjoining country from the majestic Moose and visiting the new Criminal Insane hospital in course of construction, the party took the special train and started on their way to Lake George where a few days were spent.

KEPT A DIARY FOR FIFTY YEARS

John E. Richmond's Records Once Decided a Civil Suit

RECOMMENDS PRACTICE TO YOUNG PEOPLE AS GOOD HABIT TO ACQUIRE.

For the past fifty years, John E. Richmond, the well-known music teacher of 918 Church street, has kept a diary. This is a record which is probably surpassed by no living person in the country.

"Fifty years ago when I was at Wesleyan University I started to keep a diary," said Mr. Richmond to a Citizen man who called on him several days ago to find out if we ever had such weather before in the month of June. Before leaving the weather question, this is what Mr. Richmond had to say on the subject: "Never had any such weather in June!"

Harking back to the diary: "When I left Wesleyan, that's in 1853, I kept a diary. I went to New York in 1854, and came to Carbondale in 1855, keeping a diary all the while. "I tell my wife," laughingly remarked Mr. Richmond, "I may want to prove an alibi some day. I always leave a space.

"No man comes to me twice for a bill. I always put down in my diary when I get money and when I paid so and so, and how much."

Mr. Richmond's diary has figured in Wayne county courts notably in the case of the Vedder estate, when a record in his little book was instrumental in saving J. J. Curtis two hundred dollars.

"When Vedder died," explained Mr. Richmond, "A. Hartung and J. J. Curtis were appointed administrators of the Vedder estate. I was in business at that time. Curtis used to drop in and see me. He asked me to keep his books. Hartung was a German and couldn't keep accounts in English. One day Hartung and Curtis came to the store, which was located where the Wayne Co-Operative store now stands and said: 'I just paid $200 to Gus. Hartung in Kelpel's store. I wish you would make a memorandum of that.' So I put in my diary '$200 paid by Curtis to Hartung at Hotel DeKelpel, such a date.' I put it on the diary from a memorandum. When the administrators came to settle up, Hartung forgot he'd received $200, and Curtis came to me and asked me about it. The case went to court. I was subpoenaed. I showed the Judge the entry in my diary and Curtis won his case.

"There's nothing like it. I would not miss it."

"If Mr. Richmond is out of town, he wants me to keep a diary," laughingly interjected Mrs. Richmond, "and I don't get any commission either!"

"I can see from my diary who I rode out with, who I called on, and if I paid a bill," said Mr. Richmond. "Would you advise a young person to keep a diary?" asked the reporter.

"By all means," said Mr. Richmond. "Why I am at home with that. That's authority. I am willing to swear to what I write in there. "I never missed a day excepting when I was sick and my wife or somebody else kept it for me then. "It's a matter of business. Why were you last year on such a date? Let me see. Here's my diary. That'll settle it."

Hawley Man Found Dead Near Stump

HARRY HAGAMAN, AGED 26, STRICKEN BY APOPLEXY SUNDAY EVENING.

The body of Harry Hagaman was found cold in death alongside a stump near his barn on the Hagaman homestead, about a mile from Hawley, Monday morning.

Hagaman and a few neighbors were enjoying some refreshments Sunday night. About 11 o'clock two of the party went to their respective homes and left Hagaman sitting on an old stump near the barn. He evidently was stricken with apoplexy shortly afterwards. When he did not return to the house his sister, Mrs. May Roberts, with whom the deceased made his home, instituted a search, which resulted in finding him on the ground near the stump.

County Coroner P. B. Peterson, Honesdale, was called Monday morning and deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest, as no signs of violence or marks of any kind were visible, pronouncing death to be due to apoplexy.

Hagaman was about as usual on Sunday, mingling with his friends and neighbors and his death was a shock to the community.

He was about 26 years of age and was a son of Lee Hagaman, Hawley. One brother, Frank, and a sister, Mrs. Roberts, Hawley, survive.

Lutheran Sunday School Children Hold Annual Exercises

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS PLEASING AND WELL RENDERED PROGRAM.

The Sunday school of St. John's Lutheran church held its annual Children's day exercises in the parlors of that edifice last Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, taking the hour of the regular morning worship. The attendance was good, and there was a large number of visitors present. In the absence of Pastor C. C. Miller, W. T. Heft conducted the services. A very interesting session was held. The following program was rendered:

Recitation, "My Piece," Stanley Hattler; recitation, "Roses," Dorothy Hallett, Lilla Cross, Frances Presser; singing, primary; recitation, Flora Cassel; recitation, "Flowers and Children," Anna Short; singing, by school; recitation, Mrs. Hattler's class; recitation, "God Loves the Children," Alice Bergman; singing, school; recitation, Mrs. Rebbein's class.

The following report was given, six months ending Sunday, June 25: Collection, $50.62; general attendance of scholars, times present, 2,984; absent, 1,304; teachers times present, 318; absent, 60. Infant class collection, $14.22. There are 40 enrolled in the primary and 30 on the cradle roll.

Mrs. Schwartz is the oldest pupil, being 79 years of age. She was remembered with a beautiful bouquet of red roses, while Bertha Schroeder, who is less than three years, was given a souvenir card.

Special invitations were extended to the visitors to attend the school, there being two large Bible classes conducted for adults; one in English by Prof. J. J. Koehler and another in German by Mrs. Loercher.

SAY KEOUGH WILL NOT DIE

Driver Injured in Sunday Accident Recovering

TOURING CAR WITH FIVE PASSENGERS TURNED TURTLE ON WHITE MILLS ROAD.

That Michael Keough of Carbondale will not die as the result of injuries received Sunday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock at "Dead Man's Bridge" about one mile this side of White Mills when the large touring car occupied by Carbondale people turned turtle was learned Tuesday from Dr. Powell of Honesdale, who had just come from a consultation with Dr. Gavitt of White Mills.

At the time of the accident the occupants of the car were Keough who was driving, Miss Nellie Gallagher, in the front seat; Miss Mary Gallagher, milliner, Mrs. William McGroarty of New York, and Frank P. Brown, a restaurant man of Carbondale in the rear of the car.

From all reports it is learned that the party were on their way to Honesdale driving rapidly in order to reach Carbondale by nightfall. Keough is said to be a good driver but he was unfamiliar with the road.

At the turn in the road where the accident took place, the car ran into the embankment, throwing Keough against the steering wheel and the other occupants out of the car. Keough was rendered unconscious and sustained internal injuries which have proven less serious than was at first supposed. Brown sustained a broken collar bone while the rest of the party escaped with slight cuts and abrasions.

It is not known whether the steering gear broke or whether Keough, seeing he could not make the turn at the rate of speed he was traveling, ran the car into the embankment.

After the injured members of the party were treated, the party, with the exception of Mr. Keough, were driven to Carbondale in an automobile furnished by Mr. Dorflinger, White Mills. The courtesy shown by Dr. Gavitt, Mr. Dorflinger and other people of White Mills was greatly appreciated by the party.

The automobile was damaged to such an extent that it is doubtful if it can be repaired.

BANK DIRECTORS MUST OWN STOCK

New Law Will Affect Over 500 Banking Institutions

MEASURE STRONGLY SUPPORTED BY THOSE INTERESTED IN BANKS.

State Banking Commissioner William H. Smith is about to issue notices to all State chartered banks, trust companies, savings institutions and other financial concerns coming under the State banking laws that the provisions of the act of June 3, requiring directors to take oaths of office and to be owners of at least $300 of unhypothecated stock in their own right are now in force. The directors assuming office at the next reorganization will be required to conform to the law and to take oaths according to a form to be issued by the State authorities.

Score table for Dunmore vs Honesdale game.

Score table for Dunmore vs Honesdale game.

Score table for Dunmore vs Honesdale game.